My staff and I often go to a very noisy Japanese restaurant where a lot of people take their children. There are TVs at each table. If you go there on Sunday nights at 7:30, you'll see the children staring at the TV screens with their mouths wide open, looking silly.

They're watching One Piece.

When I see that, I never want to let them down.

-Eiichiro Oda, 2001

Eiichiro Oda began his manga career at the age of 17, when his one-shot cowboy manga Wanted! won second place in the coveted Tezuka manga awards. Oda went on to work as an assistant to some of the biggest manga artists in the industry, including Nobuhiro Watsuki, before winning the Hop Step Award for new artists. His pirate adventure One Piece, which debuted in Weekly Shonen Jump in 1997, quickly became one of the most popular manga in Japan.

THE STORY OF ONE PIECE Volume 17

Roronoa Zoro
A former bounty hunter and master of the "three-sword" style. He aspires to be the world's greatest swordsman.

Princess Vivi

Dr. Kureha

Monkey D. Luffy
Boundlessly optimistic and able to stretch like rubber, he is determined to become King of the Pirates.

Usopp
A village boy with a talent for telling tall tales. His father, Yasopp, is a member of Shanks's crew.

Dr. Hiriluk

Wapol

Karoo

Dalton

Kuromarimo & Chess

Sanji
The kind-hearted cook (and ladies' man) whose dream is to find the legendary sea, the "All Blue."

Nami
A thief who specializes in robbing pirates. Nami hates pirates, but Luffy convinced her to be his navigator.

"Red-Haired" Shanks
A pirate that Luffy idolizes. Shanks gave Luffy his trademark straw hat.

Tony Tony Chopper
Dr. Kureha's pet blue-nosed reindeer who wants to become a doctor.

Monkey D. Luffy started out as just a kid with a dream—and that dream was to become the greatest pirate in history! Stirred by the tales of pirate "Red Haired" Shanks, Luffy vowed to become a pirate himself. That was before the enchanted Devil Fruit gave Luffy the power to stretch like rubber, at the cost of being unable to swim—a serious handicap for an aspiring sea dog. Undeterred, Luffy set out to sea, and recruited some crewmates: master swordsman Zoro, treasure-hunting thief Nami, lying sharpshooter Usopp, and Sanji, the high-kicking chef.

Having reached the Grand Line, Luffy and crew are escorting Princess Vivi to Alabasta in order to prevent Baroque Works from taking it over. But after a fierce battle on the island of Little Garden, Nami suddenly comes down with a high fever. In search of a doctor, the crew arrives at Drum Island where they encounter Chopper, a blue-nosed reindeer that walks on two legs and even talks! Fascinated by this living marvel, Luffy tries to recruit him as one of the crew. Meanwhile, Wapol, the former king of Drum Island with a very unusual appetite, has returned to reclaim his throne and his castle—and only the Straw Hat Pirates stand in his way!

Oda: Before we begin the SBS corner...
 We have the S (some) S (small) M (mistakes) Corner!! This is for everyone who purchased the first printing of Volume 16.
 First, about Chopper's name:
 "Tony Tony Chopper" is what it says, but this was a typo. It should really be "TonyTony Chopper," so please remember that. What? It doesn't matter!?
 Oh well, I just thought I'd bring it up. All right, on to the Question Corner!

Reader: Hello, Oda Sensei. Recently, a lot of people have been wanting to shout out the start of the SBS Corner. Actually, I'm one of them. But I'm sure you want to say it, too. So,
 let's each do half. Ready?
 "SBS will now be--"

Oda: "--gin." Um... Huh!?

Reader: Where is Oh Come My Way? Is it near my house?

Oda: Hmm... Oh Come My Way? Well, this is a difficult question, but, it's a place where people who have "come out" go to walk. And I think it exists anywhere. ♡ Yeow!!

Reader: Oda Sensei, a question about the helmets worn by the giants Brogy and Dorry. One resembles a Celtic horned helmet and the other seems to be from the Swedish Vendel Period (not sure when that was). Am I correct?

Oda: Well, the inspiration for the "Warriors of Elbaf," the tribe of giants, was my favorite pirates of the north, the Vikings, so you are absolutely right.
 Banzai to those intrepid spirits!

Reader: Oda Sensei! Yahoo!!!!

Oda: Yahoo!!!! (Just playing along)

Reader: I have a question! Does Momoo belong to the sea king family? A friend of mine said that he was something called a sea king.

Oda: Momoo? Actually, I have classified Momoo as a "sea monster." In our world, we have sea mammals like seals and whales and it's the same in One Piece. So think of a sea king as a large creature that lives in the sea that's not a sea mammal.

Reader: Does One Piece have a website?

Oda: Well, it does and it doesn't. One Piece shares the Shonen Jump website. Please take a look.

Reader: Oda Sensei, please hear me out!

I was standing in a bookstore, reading, when I thought of something. Does Vivi have any connection to ancient Egypt? Her full name is Nefeltari Vivi and her father was Nefeltari Cobra. In ancient Egypt, Nefertari had the meaning of "most beautiful one" or "most exalted one" and many queens and princesses had those hieroglyphics on their portraits. Furthermore, Alabasta seems to be a desert nation. And her father's name is Cobra. I'd like to know if I'm right. If so, please acknowledge me as Know-It-All Himeko's rival-Maimai.

Oda: I see... So that's what Nefertari means, huh? How nice. Actually I did model Alabasta after ancient Egypt, and I flipped through a book on Egypt and picked words that sounded interesting. It seems I managed to pick a nice name. (talking to myself.) All right! I acknowledge it! You rival Know-It-All Himeko!!

Reader: What are the steps to producing a comic book? You hear the word “storyboarding” a lot, but can you tell me what this process is, and when it starts?

Oda: “Storyboarding,” eh? Yes, we sometimes go through a BIG process like that. Let me explain how a graphic novel like this is produced.

Step 1 Dazed, confused First, you're in a total daze. 	Step 2 Set-up meeting Next, you discuss your ideas with the Jump editor.	Step 3 Brainstorm You think hard ABOUT the story. 	Step 4 Storyboarding On plain drawing paper, you draw the basic story. 	Step 5 Submit Storyboard You submit your storyboard via fax to the editor, and make any necessary revisions.
Step 6 Fleshing out story My assistants come to my house and raise hell for two or three days, adding drawings to the storyboard.	Step 7 Jump hits the stands Jump is sold throughout the land. 	Step 8 Set-up meeting Next, we discuss colors and other details with techie Mr. Y who is in charge of comics.	Step 9 Creating Bonus sections We add more illustrations and work on bonuses like the Question Corner. 	Step 10 The comic hits the stands Actually, the comic is ready ABOUT one month before it's released.

Oda: This is the process in a nutshell. This is my usual routine, anyway, but every author has his or her own. So the word “storyboarding” refers to the steps prior to adding all the details and drawings, when we sketch out the rough manga.

 In Vol. 15, you mentioned writing a fan letter to Toei Animation. I want to write to them, but I don't have the address. Would you give it to me? Thank you very much.

Oda: Sure. I received quite a few postcards like this, so I got permission from Toei Animation to give out this address.

〒 178-8567
 10-5 2 Chome Higashi Oizumi Nerima Ward Tokyo
 Toei Animation Planning Department
 "One Piece"

Oda: Please send all letters for One Piece animators to the above address. Even one postcard from a viewer (or reader, in my case), even one sentence, can give us a huge boost of energy. Once in a while, I get letters addressed to me personally complimenting the animators. It would be nice if you would send those comments directly to them.

Reader: Dalton, leader of the Drum Island Civilian Guard, always answers questions with bits of unnecessary information. Is that just because he's a nice person?

Oda: He does add unnecessary comments, doesn't he? I guess it's because he's a nice person, yes.
 Oh, by the way, he loves chestnut rice.

スタッフ達とよく行く和食屋さんには、子供を連れて家族がたくさん来て、騒がしい。それぞれの席には、テレビがついてる。日曜日の7時半にその店へ行くと、子供達がアホみたいに口をポカーンとあけて、ポーツとテレビにきいてる。チャンネルは「ONE PIECE」。僕は頑張ろうと思った。
